GLEN DHU PRIMARY SCHOOL HISTORY

Glen Dhu Primary School was built in 1894 and was officially opened on the 7 June, 1895. The name “Glen Dhu” means “DARK HOLLOW”.

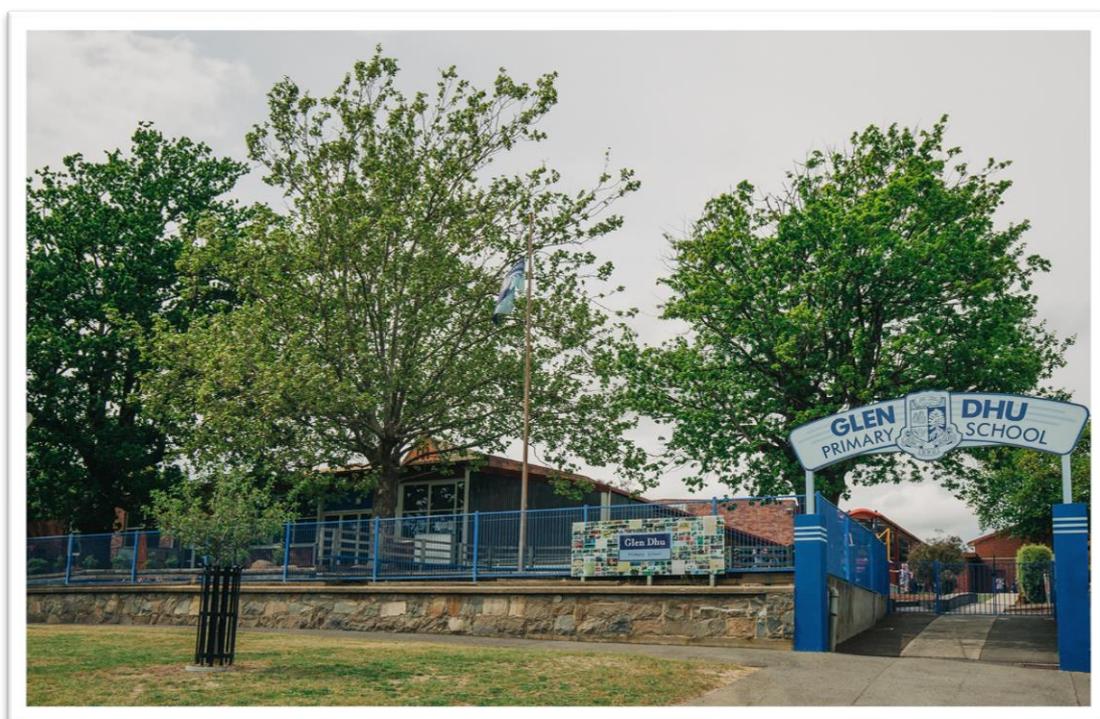

The original building included a bell tower - 9 metres high. The tower was removed in 1926. Pictures and plans of this era are shown in the main corridor and near the main office.

The first enrolment began with 300 children reaching a peak of 1,054 in 1957. Urban development outside of the city area caused a population shift. Present enrolment is 340 students.

The School Library is today situated in the original building that was upgraded in 1984 under the guidance of the National Trust. A major renovation of the primary classrooms and the administration area was completed in 2008.

Our Early Childhood classrooms (K-2), toilets and the hall were renovated in 2010/2011 and a new performing arts area was built. Most recently 2 new classrooms were opened in 2016. Our classroom facilities are now appropriate for 21st century learning and we have a welcoming reception area.

Glen Dhu Primary has outstanding outdoor facilities. The grounds are graced by some majestic large European trees which add beauty as well as shade. We are proud of Glen Dhu Primary’s long history and in 2020 we celebrated our 125th anniversary. There are many Tasmanians who have wonderful memories of the years they spent at Glen Dhu Primary.

Dear Parents and Carers,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to Glen Dhu Primary School!

Our vision is to develop responsible, resilient, curious and respectful learners. Our school has an enviable reputation in the community for its focus on providing quality teaching and learning opportunities for all students. Learning is personalised at Glen Dhu Primary School and there is a strong commitment for individuals to reach their potential. We have high expectations for learning, behaviour and relationships.

Our school provides rich opportunities for students in sport and the Arts. The Health and Physical Education program offers a wide variety of experiences with a strong emphasis on physical fitness and the development of a variety of skills. We teach students the importance of having an active, well-balanced and healthy lifestyle and support the personal qualities of team spirit, commitment and sporting attitudes.

The Arts program aims to help students develop understanding and appreciation of music, dance, drama and performing. There is an emphasis on participation in instrumental and vocal activities as well as opportunities to perform. Grade 3-6 students also have the opportunity to join the Esk Band instrumental program.

Our four core values: Respect, Courage, Growth and Aspiration underpin our supportive, safe environment. These are reflected in the calm, purposeful atmosphere which characterises our school. We believe that building quality connections between all members of our school community supports best outcomes for all.

At Glen Dhu we teach to and report against the Australian Curriculum. Collaborative planning and common task design ensures consistency and continuity across learning areas. There is a focus on dedicated literacy and numeracy teaching each day. Classroom programs include inquiry-based learning with the focus on developing a sense of curiosity for students. Teachers work collaboratively on assessment to ensure consistency against the achievement standards outlined in the Australian Curriculum.

Glen Dhu is a vibrant multicultural community. We are proud to welcome families from many different countries and value the contributions they make to our tolerant, inclusive school community.

Parent participation is strongly encouraged as we believe that education is a partnership between home and school. We encourage parents to take an active role in the school while adhering to the current COVID protocols.

We look forward to working with you and supporting your child's progress in learning as well as their development in the physical, social and personal domains.

TEACHING AND LEARNING AT GLEN DHU

Curriculum:

All schools in Tasmania plan and assess using the Australian Curriculum. The curriculum is based on teaching for understanding and clearly places student learning at the heart of all activities. English and Maths skills are fundamental and essential. In addition the Arts, Science, HASS, information communication technology (ICT), health and wellbeing all feature in classroom programs.

Teachers work collaboratively together to use the expertise of our staff to undertake a wide range of programs. In addition to the classroom programs, we have a range of flexible programs, physical education, arts, dance and library. Our aim is to provide appropriate learning opportunities for each child, encouraging them to reach their potential.

Being a Respectful School:

We have high expectations of the behaviour of everyone in our school as we work together to create a respectful inclusive and tolerant community. Courtesy, good manners and mutual respect should always be evident in every encounter.

At Glen Dhu Primary we expect every adult to model socially acceptable ways of behaving and we encourage our students to develop their own self discipline based on these models. Learning about behaviour is an integral part of school life. Bullying in any form is unacceptable and our students are expected to reach the high standards we set. When inappropriate behaviours occur in the classroom or the playground we have a clear, consistent and fair processes that are used. The language of 'Zones of Regulation' is explicitly taught and reinforced to support students resolve matters as they learn to regulate their emotions.

Attendance

We know that every child's day at school is important for their learning. Research confirms a strong link between attendance and learning outcomes and success. Students learn best when they are well so children should stay at home when they have symptoms. All other absences should be avoided. At Glen Dhu Primary School attendance is carefully monitored and children are expected to be at school every possible day.

Information Communication Technology (ICT)

Our school is proud of the level of ICT resources that are available to support the teaching and learning program. All classrooms have interactive whiteboards or smart TVs as well as desk top and lap top computers and digital cameras. Student use of ICT is carefully monitored and to ensure safety, as well as ethical use of online resources.

In 2020, GDPS become an accredited eSmart school. This means we are committed to modelling and teaching digital citizenship skills and strategies that support safe, secure, responsible and ethical use of digital technology and the online environment. We believe that in partnership with home, we can prepare our students to manage a range of situations that may occur in a rapidly changing online environment.

Camps:

A camp is organised bi-annually for Grade 5 and 6 students. All costs associated with the camp are incorporated into the school levies so there is no additional fee. Unless exceptional circumstances exist, we expect all children to participate in the camp.

Parent Help:

Parent help is encouraged throughout the school. Classroom teachers take responsibility for organising this depending on their individual needs and classroom program. Please contact your child's teacher if you would like to assist. All volunteers need to follow COVID regulations and hold a current Working with Vulnerable People (WWVP) card. This needs to be recorded at the school office. Applications can be made via the link below:

EARLY LEARNING AT GLEN DHU

Kindergarten:

Our Kindergarten program is fifteen hours each week with kindergarten children attending school on three days. Our Kindergarten groups are supported by a teacher and full time teacher assistant.

Kindergarten runs from 8.45am until 2:45pm. The door is opened at 8:30am and the slightly earlier finishing time enables kindergarten children to be collected before the rest of the school is dismissed.

Launching into Learning:

The school provides early learning programs for children birth to four years and their families under the Launching into Learning initiative. This helps parents and their child get to know their local school and other families.

Launching into Learning programs support children with their development in an atmosphere of fun and creativity and helps children transition into Kindergarten. Schools focus on the needs of their community and make connections with other groups, services and agencies in their area. When you spend time playing with your child at Launching into Learning you make a real difference to their future. Group times are advertised in the school newsletter and the school and LiL Facebook page.

GETTING TO AND FROM GLEN DHU

Parking:

There are two parking areas at the front of the school but traffic becomes very congested in the afternoons. Since the safety of the children is our prime concern, parents are asked to take particular care when travelling through the school crossing and into the parking areas. Please do not collect or deliver children on the pedestrian crossing on Pottery Court. The staff car park is not available for parent parking. Three point-turns in the school driveway are strongly discouraged to avoid backing into the crowded street. Please park in the car parks and take extra care as you arrive and leave the school precinct. We are currently consulting a traffic engineer and representative from State Growth to consider changes to the traffic movement at the school entry.

Buses:

There are no specific school buses at Glen Dhu. However, Metro services on Wellington Street run at regular intervals. Bus timetables are available on www.transport.tas.gov.au. For further details contact Metro on Ph: 6336 5888 or visit their website www.metrotas.com.au.

Our school’s location, on a busy corner and near the highway, means we all have to pay close attention to road safety. Our school’s particular rules are:

1. Unaccompanied children who need to cross Wellington Street or Westbury Road must use the overpasses.
2. Children heading towards the city or Glen Dhu Street must use the underpass.
